DAILY DIGEST

UST up as US economy shows downtrend

Macro: Latest US economic data added to signs of US economic strain, amid weakening ADP, factory orders, and ISM services data. Indonesia government to partner with PT Frisian Flag for trial run of Prabowo's free lunch program.

- Fixed Income: UST rallied, aided by weaknesses in US economic data. MGS and IndoGB rallied while ThaiGB faltered, despite solid demand for the 30Y LB556A series. Indonesia plans issuance target of IDR215tr from auctions in 3Q24.
- FX: Major currencies continued their rally, save for the JPY that declined. Regional currencies also rose on the tumbling dollar trend.

Global macro wrap

- Global: China's Caixin services PMI fell to 51.2 in Jun (consensus: 53.4; 54.0), with its softest pace of expansion since Oct due to easing growth on new and export orders. Similarly, US ISM services PMI tumbled to 48.8 in Jun (consensus: 52.7; May: 53.8), its sharpest contraction since Apr 2020 marked by contractions in new orders, employment, and slowing business activity. US factory orders fell 0.5% mom for May (consensus: +0.2%; Apr: +0.4%), while ADP private payrolls added only 150k workers in Jun (consensus: 165k; May: 157k) as well, underscoring recent trends of cracks in the US's economic resilience story. Meanwhile, FOMC meeting minutes generally added nothing new though Fedspeak from Atlanta President Austan Goolsbee in the morning tilted both ways - that keeping rates high too long 'is a danger' but also that the Fed needs 'a lot' more data before cutting rates.
- ASEAN: Thailand's Deputy Finance Minister said that the digital wallet program would be implemented by the end of this year and is expected to boost GDP growth in 1H25, even as he dismissed concerns of rising new borrowings. The Commerce Ministry added that up to 1.6m vendors are ready to join the digital wallet scheme. Malaysia Economic Minister Rafizi Ramli said the government will reopen up PADU registration soon for its second phase, though no specified date was announced.

Fixed Income

- Global: Weaknesses in ISM services data coupled with further signs of a cooling US labour market set markets sizzling, with UST rallying in a bull flattening manner by 4-8bps for the day as markets raised Fed rate cut expectations. US markets will be closed today on Independence day holiday, with futures trading likely to mirror that of Gilts activity amid the UK general elections taking place today as well.
- ASEAN: Divergence in regional bond price movements amid the earlier minor UST gains. Overall MGS yields tread lower by 1bp, with the 15Y's outperforming for the day (-3bps) on strong offshore flows. IndoGBs continued trading in a subdued manner as it closed overall firmer by 1bp as well. Meanwhile, Indonesia's FM said the government raised only IDR154tr in bond/sukuk auctions in 2Q24 - lower than its initial target of IDR170tr. It plans to raise IDR215tr in auctions in 3Q24, but will continue to adjust its targets subject to market conditions, potential demand, and financing strategy. ThaiGBs fell 0-2bps, diverging from regional peers performance even despite blockbuster demand for the 30Y LB556A auction (size: THB9bn) that garnered a BTC of 3.41x, as markets continue to digest earlier news on the Thai government's potential increased spending.

FX

- Majors: DXY continued to edge lower (-0.3%), with most majors once again advancing on the weaker dollar. The EUR and GBP were both up 0.4%, posting an identical 1% rise wow after earlier being weighed by domestic election worries. AUD rose firmer (+0.6%) than most peers, aided by strong Australia retail sales data in Jun that lends support to bets on a more hawkish RBA. USDJPY continued to trend upwards (+0.2%), with no BOJ intervention in sight to support the yen.
- ASEAN: Regional currencies traded on a firmer footing, with stronger performance likely to continue on today on overnight dollar weaknesses. THB (+0.3%) outperformed regional currencies after the earlier slide, continuing its trend of relatively sizeable dod volatility among peers. USDIDR (-0.2%) retreated further from the 16,400 handle, likely allaying BI fears of IDR weaknesses in the process.

HIGHLIGHTS

Macro: World Bank's forecast for Thailand's economic growth this year has been revised downwards to 2.4% yoy (Apr: 2.8%), excluding the impact of the Digital Wallet Program. Weak exports and public investments early in the year can be attributed to the reduced growth expectations, while CPI inflation is expected to average 0.7% this year and 1.1% next year. Additionally, The World Bank is supportive of the BOT holding interest rates until economic uncertainties have cleared up.

Macro: The Indonesian government will partner with the local unit of Dutch diary producer Royal FrieslandCampina NV (PT Frisian Flag Indonesia) to trial its USD4bn free lunch program, with a six-month pilot expected to start at 10 schools in Jakarta. The program was a campaign pledge by the President-elect Prabowo Subianto to provide free lunches to 83 million school children.
